Report: (Summary of the contents delivered)

To strengthen the bridge between classroom learning and real-world practice, an Orientation Session on Field Work was conducted for MBA junior students by Dr. Pratiksha Wable. Students gained valuable insights into the methodologies of conducting field work, developed awareness about industry expectations, and understood how practical exposure enhances managerial skills and decision-making abilities.

The session was highly interactive, with Dr. Wable emphasizing the role of field work in bridging the gap between academic learning and professional application. She highlighted examples from industry practices and encouraged students to approach field assignments with curiosity, analytical thinking, and professionalism.

The orientation session proved to be an enriching experience for the MBA juniors. It not only clarified the objectives of field work but also motivated students to actively engage in practical learning opportunities. The guidance provided by Dr. Pratiksha Wable will serve as a strong foundation for their upcoming field assignments and future managerial careers.
